Universities and colleges are ranked on almost everything. Graduate school programs, a university's party scene and a college's fiscal value are just a few of the numerous aspects of higher education to which research agencies and news companies assign a grade.

And now there's a ranking for how many millionaire alumni these universities can produce.

In a new survey released by research organization WealthInsight and news site Elite Traveler, Miami University ranked No. 33 in the world for the number of millionaire alumni it cranks out.

The Butler County university was the only Ohio school to make the list.
